2023 PDE Data Summit

Theme – Understand Your Data: Uplifting Students, Classrooms, & Schools

The Pennsylvania Department of Education’s (PDE) annual Data Summit offers attendees including vendors an opportunity to learn, network and discuss education data with peers and leaders from across the state and nation. Keynote presentations, sessions, and our vendors are strategically coordinated to provide all attendees with educational information, resources, and tools on a wide variety of topics. These topics range from reporting school data, improving data quality, sharing PDE initiatives and making data-based decisions, to data governance, school improvement, cybersecurity, social and emotional learning (SEL), and many other topics.

Who Attends?

The PDE Data Summit has consistently shown an increase in our attendance to over 1,000 attendees including presenters, PDE staff, and volunteers. The PDE Data Summit is open to everyone involved in education data or decision making from, superintendents, school administrators, school board members, career and technical centers, charter and cyber charter schools, intermediate units, and local education agency (LEA) data staff, including: PIMS administrators, and staff from child accounting, curriculum, special education, data, assessment, and technology.

Why Exhibit?

Vendors have a great opportunity to gain exposure to their brand through exhibiting and demonstrating their product and services, network with their peers, and build relationships with prospective and current customers. Vendors are welcome to attend the variety of educational sessions, Keynote presentations, and after hour receptions.

Our goal for each vendor is to have them experience impactful educational sessions, provide valuable sponsorship and networking opportunities, build relationships, and have fun.
