Clarks Summit, PA  18411-1776

Dear Mr. Mahon:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Abington Heights SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $813,661.91.

Your allocation is made up of $801,214.33 from the property tax relief formula and $12,447.58 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Ebensburg, PA 15931-7617

Dear Dr. DiLeo:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Central Cambria SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $389,779.94.

Your allocation is made up of $388,162.15 from the property tax relief formula and $1,617.79 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Central Cambria SD must reduce property taxes by $389,779.94 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Dear Dr. Troop:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Ephrata Area SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $1,020,643.25.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Mc Donald, PA 15057-2975

Dear Dr. Jacoby:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Fort Cherry SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $449,718.23.

Your allocation is made up of $449,648.41 from the property tax relief formula and $69.82 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Fort Cherry SD must reduce property taxes by $449,718.23 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Dear Mr. DiSabato:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Glendale SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $311,752.50.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Hanover Township, PA  18706

Dear Mr. Kuhl:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Hanover Area SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $888,928.47.

Your allocation is made up of $886,953.73 from the property tax relief formula and $1,974.74 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Hanover Area SD must reduce property taxes by $888,928.47 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Dear Dr. Reina:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Hopewell Area SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $1,149,004.19.

Your allocation is made up of $1,147,740.04 from the property tax relief formula and $1,264.15 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Montoursville Area SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $511,284.75.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Dear Dr. Meehan:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Neshannock Township SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $196,449.04.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Boswell, PA 15531-1231

Dear Mr. Lepley:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that North Star SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $384,282.64.

Your allocation is made up of $383,821.44 from the property tax relief formula and $461.20 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

North Star SD must reduce property taxes by $384,282.64 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Dear Dr. Downie:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Northwestern SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $394,033.62.

Your allocation is made up of $393,866.68 from the property tax relief formula and $166.94 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Northwestern SD must reduce property taxes by $394,033.62 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Parkland SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $1,762,367.16.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Dear Dr. Polkabla:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Ringgold SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $1,219,589.73.

Your allocation is made up of $1,219,379.52 from the property tax relief formula and $210.21 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Ringgold SD must reduce property taxes by $1,219,589.73 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Dear Dr. Mata:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Schuylkill Valley SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $588,554.28.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Dear Dr. Sanville:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Unionville-Chadds Ford SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $1,488,695.48.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

Russell, PA 16345-3406

Dear Dr. Clark:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that Warren County SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $2,735,436.50.

Your allocation is made up of $2,735,098.15 from the property tax relief formula and $338.35 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

Dear Dr. Foley:

I am pleased to inform you that school districts will be able to continue reducing local property taxes in the 2016-2017 school year as a result of the distribution of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that West Middlesex Area SD’s property tax reduction allocation for 2016-2017 is $400,736.14.

Your allocation is made up of $400,700.30 from the property tax relief formula and $ 35.84 in Sterling Act reimbursements, which have both been prorated based on the total funds available for tax relief.

West Middlesex Area SD must reduce property taxes by $400,736.14 through a homestead and farmstead exclusion. Please see section 343 of Act 1 for details about what information must appear on the tax bill, including the requirement for a “Notice of Property Tax Relief.” School districts may also reject their property tax reduction allocation, as described in Chapter 9 of the law.

The detailed data used to calculate your school district’s allocation is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.

Before finalizing the school district’s real estate tax rate and preparing real estate tax bills, it is important to assure that the homestead/farmstead exclusion (i.e., reduction in assessed value) does not exceed 50 percent of the median assessed value of homestead properties pursuant to 53 Pa CS 8586.

Questions concerning these calculations may be directed to Benjamin Hanft at either (717) 787-5423, option 5 or ra-PropertyTax@pa.gov.

City of Philadelphia

Municipal Services Building
Room 1330
Philadelphia, PA 19102

Dear Mr. Dubow:

I am pleased to inform you that the City of Philadelphia will be able to reduce the wage tax for residents and nonresidents as a result of a distribution in 2016-2017 of state gaming funds through the Taxpayer Relief Act, also known as Special Session Act 1 of 2006.

As required by law, the Commonwealth’s Budget Secretary certified on April 15, 2016, that $617,900,000 will be available in 2016-2017 for state-funded local tax relief. When combined with the expansion of the senior citizen Property Tax/Rent Rebate program, total state-funded property tax relief will reach $765.9 million next year.

I am writing to notify you that the allocation to reduce the wage tax for residents is $55,882,849.60 and the allocation to reduce the wage tax for nonresidents is $30,400,249.87.

The detailed data used to calculate these allocations is available for review at www.education.pa.gov. Select Teachers and Administrators then Property Tax Relief.
