						Needs to be with the general population because it makes the student more aware of what is expected. Does well in class with a little bit of help. Very social and likes to work collaboratively. If restricted, would not perform to potential. Confidence is developing, participation has increased, enjoying learning. It helps socially. Thrives working in groups and has learned so much more in the regular classroom than would have learned in pull out. Making progress, doing well with tests/writing, doesn't hesitate to share, works well with others/independently, positive attitude, asks questions. The peer interaction and positive role models are beneficial and it boosts confidence. Great rapport, it is the least restrictive environment. Socialization skills are coming to life with other kids, able to do more. Helping other students, peer mentoring, following directions. Receives a lot of individual attention and instructional help to get the work done. Has made both academic progress and behaviorally and socially. Has learned appropriate peer social behavior. Is accepted and enjoys being with non-disabled peers.

9	1	2				SE 95b. In the most recent IEP meeting, did the IEP team recommend removal of this student from the general education classroom for any part of the school day?
0	0	3				SE 95c. If yes, what reasons were discussed for recommending removal? Functioning level in specific subject is better served in the special education class, more focused in the smaller setting. Was to have a regular study hall and would be best supported in the special education room where there is always a teacher and instructional aide - needs more structure organization. Based on needs. Needs a great deal more individualized instruction than can be given in the general education classroom on a full time basis. Often the pace in the general education class is too fast. Least restrictive environment; academics based on progress monitoring showed some needs are better met in a specific class but still support attendance in some classes. For student's goals it was a better environment to achieve practice and expertise. As child progresses, that can be changed. For now it is better without distractions and with personalized instruction. Student requires more intensive and individualized behavioral and instructional attention than can be given if in general education for the entire school day. Student needs. The student benefits from a smaller class setting.
0	0	3				SE 95d. If yes, how was the amount of time that this student would be removed from the general education classroom decided?

						One class period is what is needed. Based on schedule. Based on academic levels of performance and needs. Based on academic needs. Team decision/discussion about which areas would be better met with peers for socialization and communication growth. Based on specific grade, level of performance, academic progression and input from teachers, severity/frequency of needs. It was based on academic and instructional need. We also looked at behavioral/emotional needs. Based on the schedule at school. Two periods of English Language Arts is what all students have in this grade.
9	0	3				SE 95e. In the most recent IEP meeting, did the IEP team discuss whether this student could be educated satisfactorily in a general education classroom for the entire school day with supplementary aids and services?

Level of support required, better met for needs. Needed supports and academic needs. Services needed. Was not able to focus in the general education classroom. Needed extra help in two classes, was struggling. Requires a considerable amount of individualized academic instruction to be successful and it is more appropriate to offer this within the special education classroom than all day in the general education classroom. The student needs special attention for needs.
0	0	3	0			P 50d. If yes, how was the amount of time that your child would be removed from the general education classroom decided? Needs more special time for help. Needs smaller classes and more special attention. Through the discussion of the student's needs, my input about where student would benefit. Nothing significant. Based on percentage of what is needed to be accomplished. On what is needed. By the length of the classes and number of periods needed. It was based on need for individual and individualized help. Not sure. It just seems to work.

10	1	1	0			P 50f. In your opinion, is your child benefiting from participation in the general education classroom?
0	0	2	0			P 50g. If yes, in what ways?  Making progress both academically and behaviorally. The student is participating, learning from modeling behavior, peer and social interaction, own personal self worth is developing. Interaction with peers, more focused on schoolwork because gaps missed in the classroom. Improving in academics, skills, not having any issues at all. Learned how to focus in a crowded room. Socially Socialization, co-operation. Loves the socialization and it helps to learn appropriate social behavior. People in general do not see a problem with the student due to the involvement in general education classes. More hands on classes engaged in the learning process, using technology builds confidence, does better and motivates to learn.
0	0	11	0			P 50h. If no, what does your child need that he/she is not receiving in the class? Math is too hard - struggling and losing self esteem.
