Describe the LEA's system used to evaluate the performance of your teachers:

In 2004 the school implemented a teachers evaluation system that allowed teachers to earn up to 12% merit per year. The tool was modified in 2008 to reflect a more accurate picture of what an online teacher does each day. Currently teachers are evaluated twice a year by the principal, and can earn up to nine percent (9%) merit using an evaluation tool that looks at four service areas: Organizational Expectations, Classroom Environment, Instruction, and Professional Responsibilities. The area of Organizational Expectations includes Student Achievement, Communication with students and families, Asynchronous Progress, and Customer Service are weighted. These teacher standards have been developed partially based on INACOL (International Association for K-12 Online Learning) standards and the schools’ strong history. Teachers can earn up to three percent (3%) merit for successful completion of the goals.

TEACHER INFORMATION
a. Teacher Development? Yes
   Overall evaluation's scores are analyzed for areas of weakness and professional development is provided. Example. C2. Evidence of differentiated instruction and assessment (Part C instruction) was low one-year so the following semester special-education staff designed professional development to increase scores.

b. Teacher Compensation? Yes
   Yes - A teacher’s evaluation score determines their merit for the upcoming school year.

c. Teacher Promotions? Yes
   Teachers that do not achieve the “Meets Expectation” level of performance will not recommended for level II to the state. Starting in 2011, teacher’s must achieve Exceeds Expectation or above the previous two semesters in order for a teacher to move into a lead position.

d. Teacher Retention and Removal? Yes
   Teachers that do not achieve the meets expectation level of performance are not recommended for level II to the state.

Describe the LEA’s system used to evaluate the performance of your Principals:

The Chester County Intermediate Unit Administrator Evaluation, which is used by 21CCCS is the product of a comprehensive study of several models of evaluation. The criteria selected for the tool were matched to the organization’s mission to provide quality, innovative and cost-effective programs to enhance the lives of students and members of our communities. The evaluation is comprised of four core job responsibilities and seven areas of performance. The principal and his/her supervisor select the specific job responsibilities to include on the evaluation form based on individual and building needs. These account for thirty-five per cent of the final score. Performance areas, sixty-five per cent of the final score, include Communication, Supervision, Problem-Solving, Accountability and Responsibility, Collaboration and Teamwork, Continuing Professional Development and Initiative. A descriptive rubric accompanies each performance area to clarify expectations. The summative evaluation score is converted to Unsatisfactory, Needs Improvement, Meets Expectations, Exceeds Expectations or Distinguished. The Administrator Evaluation is used to determine merit based bonuses and to identify individuals for career advancement.
